

Main Screen, you start by swiping the button which will move the whole canvas - moving the alarm time to the top, hiding the current time, revealing buttons at the bottom and changing the main button to sliding selector

To keep it simple and intuitive - the main slider changes the alarm time, you swipe from left (as shown by the buttons) and reveal the week alarm settings, you swipe from right and reveal the main menu. There is a simple on/off switch for all alarms

Main screen with the days selector If you start sliding (the main menu drawer is hidden), if a particular day is selected, the circle gets filled, and the chosen alarm time will repeat on the chosen day. If no day is selected the alarm will simply ring every day at this time, unless turned off by the main switch.

Week alarms: Bottom row is for inactive days (days with no alarm set). When sliding, "X" icon appears to hint that if you slide it to the very bottom you will make the day inactive (delete the alarm)

Times on the top are AM/PM by pressing the time you change AM to PM. If no time is set the name of the day is displayed instead

Golden Ratio

